Greetings from Denison! Wow! This weather has been up and down. Hot, warm, and then cold. I can't wait for it to warm up!

I am so very proud to be your President and am looking forward to a year promoting our beloved Lincoln Highway. As the warm weather approaches, we should all be looking toward our individual community celebrations, and promoting the Lincoln Highway.

The Lincoln Highway Buy Way yard sale has a sign-up on the Lincoln Highway Web site, so start signing up! A map of locations will be added later as people start signing up their sales.

The conference for 2017 is coming along great. Tours are in place and the food and entertainment have been put together.

A Tribute to Jeff Benson
By Bob Auseberger, Greene County

The phone call we never want or expect to get is one where a person such as Jeff Benson has passed away. We received that call Wednesday, about noon, and were devastated. Over the past 25 years he and his wife Margaret have been such an important part of our lives. They were one of our hero couples, and he was certainly a hero to our Lincoln Highway family.

He was creative, positive, and adventurous in both work and play. It was always fun to visit Jeff and Margaret. Many times the reason was a Lincoln Highway “situation” and always the issues were softened by discussions about their personal lives. They were always up to something whether it was with the kids, their home, yard, garden, camping, or planning a trip. As we talked, the Lincoln Highway issue would blend in and become just part of the visit, and the sharp edges of a seemingly insurmountable problem would taper and solutions would appear. One of my regrets is that we never did get the farm compost delivered for their garden. However, we did get the wheel over to them, and had fun with a highly upscale discussion of where and how the wheel could best be displayed in their backyard/garden.

Joyce and I always learned something new about Jeff in our discussions and were especially entertained with stories about his high school and college days. Did you know that he helped organize a rock band and was quite an accomplished musician?

In the early years of our Lincoln Highway organization Jeff and Margaret were very active. They served as the second presidents and later Jeff served as secretary. He will be remembered for his handling of the Lions Club Tree Park interpretive site situation and ushering it to near completion.

His last act was to bring an explaining sign. He and Troy worked hard to keep that project moving forward. Of course the sign still hasn’t been placed, and now I can’t visit with Jeff about this issue.

In this project, one can see some of his many good qualities—fund raising when last minute money was needed or being able to break down complex issues into simpler parts that could be solved one at a time. And especially important being able to reduce personality issues so that the project problems could be worked on. He was adamant about the highway being a museum and that our duties were to preserve it and its roadside features so that a story could be told about the development of the highway and road system in our country. He and Lyell developed the plan for a hierarchy of interpretive sites many years ago. This plan continues to be the guide for telling this story.

I don’t remember Jeff telling jokes, but he had a great sense of humor. One day during a planning session for the Lions Club Tree Park (on the Lincoln Highway, east of Grand Junction) we were discussing monetary compensation for the “big shots” as Jeff sometimes referred to them. He suggested that the historians, architect, graphic designer, and landscape architect get equal compensation. This suggestion caused quite an uproar. Amongst shouting and disagreement, Jeff said, “Wait, wait, this was just a dream and forget that I said it.”

“Context Sensitive Design” was a byword for Jeff. A country road, city street, or cross-country highway, park, bike trail, pedestrian island, etc. was not just a piece of dirt, rock, concrete or asphalt with a fore slope and back slope. To him, it represented a place in time and space. The past, present, and future needed to be reckoned with and this required planning, time, and sometimes more planning, and many times strange and unknown involvement of science, history, culture or other human or inhuman activity.

Jeff gave great presentations and programs including an adult education series at Iowa State. He was good at captivating an audience and ending these in a timely manner. He was punctual with starting and ending meetings but always took time afterwards to work with people on their particular issues.

I am sure that Jeff will want Margaret and the kids to carry on and that he will want the Lincoln Highway Association to carry on. His other friends, acquaintances, and people involved in projects and his job with the city will surely feel this same challenge. Let’s live up to his expectations.
Mystery Place
By Van Becker

As with all Mystery Photos, I have four very special clues to make the location of this summer photo easy to identify.

The question is: Where is this Lincoln Highway planter?

1. This summer the LHA National Conference is in Michigan. This photo is 520 miles west of the conference site.

2. The photo is of the north side of the planter.

3. The BWN is to the southeast of this mystery location and the UP is to the north.

4. For years, but sadly, no more, a black knight watched over this site from across the Lincoln Highway.

If you think you can identify the Mystery Place, send an email to lincolnhighway@prrcd.org or call 515-232-0048. Call with the correct information and we will take your name and contact information. We then will hold a random drawing for a winner to receive a 2013 Iowa Lincoln Highway Map Pack! This is to accommodate for the varying time and travel the postal system can take and to give all a fair try.

Last Issue’s Mystery Place

The photos are of the “east end of the viaduct in Mt. Vernon, Iowa.” Of course, it is on the Lincoln Highway on what is also known today as 1st Street East. The vintage photo was taken in the early teens and I took the second photo just this spring. Congrats to our winner, Bob Crawford of Newport, MN.
Lincoln Highway Bridge Park Update
By Dana Davis Hanson, VP of the Tama-Toledo LHBPO

We have been very busy with the Lincoln Highway Bridge Park Organization (LHBPO) in Tama/Toledo this spring! One of our biggest projects was educating our youth on the history and importance of the LH in hopes that they will carry on the tradition of preserving it in the future. Allan Richards, one of our members, made several presentations to the elementary and high school students at South Tama Schools.

The 4th grade class took a special interest in the LH and they have been involved in many of our activities. They made a large confetti mural of the LH bridge that was on display at the State LH meeting last fall. The mural has since been on display at the Tama County Courthouse and may one day make it to the National meeting. On 4/23 this group of 120+ students came by bus to the courthouse to welcome John Mazzello, Janice Gammon and other supporters that came to learn more about the LH Corridor Management Plan. On May Day, the same group of 4th graders came out to the LH Bridge Park to clean up trash, pick up sticks and plant flowers. Their teachers and their principal, Jim Bugge were very supportive in the projects and all are very deserving of an extra-special “thank-you”!

On 5/15 the LHBPO staged a kick-off and flag raising ceremony at the park for the local Lincoln Highway Festival. The mayor of Tama, Dan Zimmerman, was on hand to open the kick-off. Allan Richards talked about the LH history and the significance of it in our community. Abe Lincoln (AKA Lance Mack) made an appearance and gave an inspiring rendition of the Gettysburg Address. The 4th grade students proudly sang the Star Spangled Banner. The local American Legion was on hand to present the American flag to the Boy Scouts that raised the flag. It was a wonderful ceremony and we were so pleased to see the community come out and show their support!

Of course no festival is complete without a parade! The LHBPO worked hard to build a float to enter in the parade, or maybe it just seemed hard because we were all inexperienced at float building. It all came together just in time for the parade Saturday morning. Whew! Around the float were Iowa maps that the 4th graders had traced the LH. Abe Lincoln sat tall in a large antique chair in front of a large American flag. Colleen Davis, the President of our organization, and some of the students rode along with Abe to throw out the candy. It all went so fast and we spent hours getting ready!

Our next adventure will be the Lincoln Highway Buy-Way Yard Sale in August. We hope to once again fill the park with vendors and have other locals along the route participate too. This is really only our second year at this, but we hope to grow each and every year. Maybe one day we will reach across the whole town. Even better, across the whole state of Iowa!! Let us know if you are interested in being involved, we need to get this going!

We also have been continuing our efforts to restore and preserve the Lincoln Highway Bridge in Tama. The bridge is such an icon in our community and visitors who travel the highway continue to make this a point of interest along the route. We are working with the city to find funding through grants and donations to make the necessary repairs. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the bridge. We have added new bushes and flowers to the park area and it should be beautiful when in bloom this summer. We are still working on our plans to build a large informational kiosk at the park. You know how the saying goes...we have plenty of big ideas, but little money. So, we continue in our fundraising, so that one day this will become a reality for us and for the community.

If you are interested in following us and our adventures you can find us on Facebook at: Lincoln Highway Bridge Park Org. Tama/Toledo, IA.

Jefferson Bell Tower Festival 2015

Jefferson’s annual festival promises a weekend full of family-friendly fun and entertainment. Nestled in the middle of Greene County’s county seat, the festival is home to a broad spectrum of activities.

From free shows on the plaza stage, to events and attractions like craft and food vendors, the fun run and walk, basketball tournament, and the beverage garden with its nightly musical entertainment, to a couple of events with a bit of a twist. The Bell Tower Festival was the place to be the second weekend of June!
Jeff Benson (1952-2015)
By Adams Funeral Home

Jeffrey Donald Benson was born on June 28, 1952, the second child of Donald and Martha Benson, in Lawrence, Kansas. The family moved to Ames in 1958 when Donald accepted a position as an assistant Professor in the English Department at Iowa State University. As a boy, Jeff attended the original Edwards School, followed by Welch Junior High and finally graduated from Ames High School in 1970. After spending two years at Carlton College in Northfield, Minnesota, he returned to Ames to attend a community college. While there, he studied design and eventually found work in several engineering companies.

Early in his career, he pursued an interest in landscape architecture and interned for The Design Collaborative at Ames design firm in Ames. He worked under the direction of James Sinatra and David L. Dahlquist, landscape architects.

Throughout his professional career, Jeff became a distinguished landscape architect through his project achievements and subsequent services to the profession. He was perhaps the one of the few to pass the State of Iowa registration examination and immediately become fully registered before earning a degree in Landscape Architecture. Following his registration, he then enrolled at Iowa State to receive a B.S. degree in Landscape Architecture and continued on to receive a Master’s Degree in Community and Regional Planning. In 2001, he was employed by the City of Ames Planning Department and thus held the position for 14 years. While in this position, he was responsible for many projects for the beauty and betterment of Ames. In the 1980’s, he played instrumental roles in the design and development of many major products including: the Gateway Hills and Green Hills developments in Ames and the State Historical Building landscape at the State Capitol.

Jeff’s success in his personal life was also mirrored in his personal life. On April 27, 1980 he married Margaret Elbert, of Ames. They have been happily married for 35 years. Jeff and Margaret have contributed many years of service and leadership to the Lincoln Highway Association. Jeff also served on the Lincoln Highway Heritage Byway Advisory Board and the Byways of Iowa Coalition.

Jeff died on Tuesday, May 26, 2015, surrounded by his wife and family, at Mary Greeley Medical Center in Ames. Memorials can be made to the Iowa Lincoln Highway Association, PO Box 224 Grand Junction, IA 50107 or the Ames Historical Society, 416 Douglas Avenue # 101, Ames, IA 50010.

Corridor Management Plan Update
By John Mazzello, Program Coord. Prairie Rivers

The last few months have been very busy ones for the Lincoln Highway Heritage Byway’s Corridor Management Plan project. As you’ll recall, a Corridor Management Plan, or CMP, is a long-term planning tool that identifies the byway area’s strengths and opportunities, and lays out a strategy for enhancing the roadway. A major part of the CMP planning process is engaging with byway communities in order to gather priorities from residents, leaders, and organizations.

Since February, we have held community meetings in 13 Lincoln Highway communities: State Center, Jefferson, Lowden, Clinton, Boone, Belle Plaine, Ames, Toledo, Marion, Missouri Valley, Denison, Carroll, and Nevada. At each meeting, we had a great conversation about the Lincoln Highway, its important locations and assets, and each community’s dreams for how the roadway might enhance the local area. Specifically, we considered the “intrinsic qualities,” or the things that make the Lincoln Highway unique in six areas: historic, cultural, recreational, scenic, natural, and archaeological. From these meetings, we are assembling community priorities and strategies for reaching these goals.

More than 150 Iowans have participated in these meetings so far, including many Lincoln Highway Association members. Also represented have been business owners, elected officials, government employees, leaders of community groups, and local residents. Thank you to all the ILHA members who have attended meetings or given input on this project so far. We especially appreciate the help of the members who assisted with securing meeting spaces, providing refreshments, or organizing meetings.

Meetings are currently being planned for this summer in Mt.Vernon-Lisbon, Marshalltown, and Council Bluffs. Please look for more information in your local newspaper, on the Iowa Lincoln Highway Association’s Facebook page, at our website at www.prccd.org/cmp, or by phone at 515-232-0048. If you were unable to make the meeting in your area and would like to learn more about the CMP project and provide your input on your local area, please call or email lincolncmp@prccd.org. As members of the ILHA, you have an important and unique perspective on the Lincoln Highway, and it is critical that we include your ideas in the CMP. We invite you to get involved with this exciting project!
County reports were then given. Boone will be celebrating their 150th this year. It will be in conjunction with their Pufferbilly Days. Youngville Café will try to extend their hours. Tama is continuing to work on their kiosk, garden, and working on saving a tourist cabin. Harrison County has had some restaurants move to different locations and some new ones start up.

The next Lincoln Highway Association meeting will be in July 11th at the Pizza Ranch (1347 11th St N) in Clinton, Iowa.

Scott Berka shared a link to the US Long Cuts blog about travels they take across America. (Name is the opposite of Short Cuts- you get the idea.) They included nice photos and an article about traveling the Lincoln Highway last summer.  http://www.uslongcuts.com/road-trips/historic-routes/9-free-places-along-the-lincoln-highway-through-iowa/

Here’s an excerpt:

“The Lincoln Highway, the first transcontinental highway in the United States, dedicated on October 31, 1913, originally stretched 3,389 miles from New York City to San Francisco. The route length decreased over time as the highway was rerouted for better efficiency. Last summer we took the Lincoln Highway partway through Iowa, west to east, stopping at several sites, all free (except lunch, of course), along the way, some for a quick photo and others that required a little more time.”

They traveled from Crescent to Tama. Check out the blog and add your own comments if you’d like.
Lincoln Highway Heritage Byway Updates
By Jan Gammon, LHHB Coord.
Prairie Rivers of Iowa

This spring has been a busy time! John Mazzello and I have travelled the Lincoln Highway, holding Corridor Management Plan meetings and visiting many of your communities. I have enjoyed meeting everyone and hearing stories of the Lincoln Highway.

As part of the state Byway system, I am to keep the DOT’s Byway website up-to-date with events and attractions. I have researched what is happening in each county and have started listing at least one activity in each county. I will keep expanding the list.

This summer I hope to attend several festivals. I started out the season by attending the Lincoln Highway Bridge Festival in mid-May. The folks in Tama have done a wonderful job on the park and everyone was having a good time at the carnival and food booths. As my website events list expands, so does my personal list of what I want to attend!

At a Motorcycle Forum in late April, I met a group of cyclists that are going from west to east on the Lincoln Highway over the Fourth of July holiday. They are hoping to frequent mom-and-pop businesses, attend some events, and enjoy the scenery. I have done some research for their trip and shared it with them.

The Iowa Byways will also be at a Harley Owner (H.O.G.) rally in July and we will be promoting travelling the Lincoln Highway with them. We have also sent Lincoln Highway Heritage Byway brochures to a Goldwing group that wants to travel the Byway. If you see motorcycles on the road this summer, it might be one of these groups!

The two conservation-related interpretative signs are in the fabrication phase and should be installed late summer/early fall in Ogden and Grand Junction area. We will host an unveiling ceremony and all LHA members will be invited to attend.

I will be attending the LHA convention in June and hope to learn even more about the association and the highway as we tour the University of Michigan archives. See you on the Lincoln Highway!

After the meeting members enjoy lunch at Dixie Quicks.

Event to pay tribute to the 1928 Boy Scout effort

On October 31, 1913, Council Bluffs was the first city in Iowa to dedicate the Lincoln Highway. Several years later, in 1928, the Boy Scouts of America adopted the Lincoln Highway and installed concrete marker signs. That summer, select Boy Scouts traveled from New York to the Golden Gate on a “Lincoln Highway Safety Tour”. To honor all of these great Lincoln Highway events, the Council Bluffs Public Library will be holding a celebration this July 21st at noon.

The Lincoln Highway Association has asked the Mid-American Boy Scout Council to be there as we pay tribute to the Boy Scouts’ gestures so many years ago. Also honored, in remembrance, will be the last surviving Boy Scout to make the cross-state trip, Bernard Queneau. He died in 2014, at the age of 102. The LHA is asking other businesses along the Lincoln Highway to be involved in this celebration.

Please join us for this important event as past and present Boy Scouts and their involvement with the Lincoln Highway are honored on July 21st at the Council Bluffs Library.
